SCOUTING THE TIGERS

Texas Southern remains winless to open the season with a mark of 0-3. The team most recently fell to Texas State, 70-56, at home.

The Tigers have been outscored 71.7 to 49.7 through the first three games. This lack of scoring has seen Texas Southern shoot .321 from the field and .255 from beyond the arc.

The team is led by guard Joyce Kennerson who is averaging a team-high 22.0 points and 3.0 assists per game. On the glass, the team looks to Niya Mitchell who has reeled in 7.0 per game this season.

LOOKING AT THE RAZORBACKS

Heading into the Thanksgiving Classic, Arkansas currently holds an overall record of 3-1. The team's most recent game saw them take down Oral Roberts, 77-66, on the road.

The Razorbacks currently lead the NCAA in fewest turnovers per game averaging just 8.5 per contest. Arkansas' turnover margin of 6.00 is also good for third in the Southeastern Conference.

Malica Monk leads the team with 21.3 points per game and has only five turnovers while handling the ball an average of 34.8 minutes per contest. The North Little Rock, Arkansas, native tallied a career-best 24 points in a win at Oral Roberts on Monday and has led the team in scoring in all four games.

Graduate student Devin Cospers has also scored in double digits in all four games and has two double-doubles this season, good for 24th in the country.

Defensively, the Razorbacks average 8.0 steals and 5.3 blocks per game. The team has struggled on the boards, however, being outrebounded 45.2 to 40.0.

the Colorado native spent eight seasons on the Aggie bench from 2003-11.

In her three seasons in Fort Collins, Colo., the Rams enjoyed three-consecutive Mountain West Conference regular-season titles, including an NCAA appearance during the 2015-16 campaign – their first appearance in the Big Dance in 14 years (2002).

Ryan McAdams enters his first season with New Mexico State after spending seven years as the head coach of Eastern Arizona. The Gila Monsters reached the national tournament in three of the last four seasons under McAdams.

While at the helm for seven years, McAdams saw EAC named runner-up NJCAA Academic Team of the Year with the second-highest team GPA out of 181 schools, twice. Every two-year player under McAdams transferred to four-year schools under his watch.

Aisha Stewart spent the past two years as assistant coach with the North Texas women's basketball team. She also served as recruiting coordinator, academic liaison and guards coach. During Stewart's time with the Mean Green, she was able to improve the teams winning percentage in each of the two seasons.

Stewart led the North Texas attack as they were awarded with the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Shooting Award for the most improved field-goal percentage in the 2015-16 season.

DeAudra Brown joins NM State after two seasons as an assistant coach at Seward County Community College. In those years at Seward County, Brown helped lead the Lady Saints to a 57-11 overall record along with a pair of appearances in the National Junior College Athletic Association Region VI Tournament Game and one in the NJCAA National Tournament.

A leader off the court as well, Brown helped the Lady Saints in the classroom to an NJCAA Academic Team of the Year recognition with a 3.56 team grade point average in 2017.

Brooke Atkinson was named the 11th head coach in Aggie women’s basketball history on Wednesday, May 3, to the Las Cruces community and media.

Atkinson joins NM State after spending the past three seasons at Colorado State University. However, Atkinson is no stranger Las Cruces as the Colorado native spent eight seasons on the Aggie bench from 2003-11.

In her three seasons in Fort Collins, Colo., the Rams enjoyed three-consecutive Mountain West Conference regular-season titles, including an NCAA appearance during the 2015-16 campaign – their first appearance in the Big Dance in 14 years (2002).

Her first season with CSU (2014-15) resulted in in a 23-8 overall mark and 15-3 record in Mountain West play. The Rams also appeared in the WNIT for the second-straight season, the first time Colorado State has made back-to-back postseason appearances since the 2002-04 seasons.

With Atkinson’s help, Colorado State has now produced the last three MWC Players of the Year with Ellen Nystrom laying claim to her second-straight player of the year accolade this past season.

Prior to joining the Rams, Atkinson spent three seasons at the University of South Dakota (2011-14) where she initially worked under current CSU Rams head coach Ryun Williams in her first season. The Coyotes enjoyed postseason berths in all three years Atkinson was in Vermillion, S.D., including South Dakota’s first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament appearance in 2014.

The Coyotes claimed their first Summit League Tournament Championship in 2014 as well, beating out in-state rival South Dakota State 82-71 in route to its first NCAA Tournament appearance. Atkinson also led the ‘Yotes to the conference tournament championship game in 2012-13. USD also advanced to the WBI Tournament semifinals that year and fell to the eventual champions, McNeese State.

Atkinson’s first season with South Dakota resulted in the Coyote’s first 20-plus win season as a Division I member institution. USD finished the 2011-12 campaign 23-8 overall and 12-6 in the Summit League – good for third – while earning its first WNIT bid. The ‘Yotes reached the second round of the WNIT with a 61-53 victory over Drake before falling to Colorado 64-55.

Before joining South Dakota, Atkinson coached at New Mexico State for eight seasons (2003-11). While in Las Cruces, she helped the 2009-10 Aggies reach the postseason for the first time in 16 years.

As a player, Atkinson started her career at Western Nebraska Community College (1998-00) before finishing her collegiate career at Wichita State (2000-02). Her 127 assists during the 1999-00 campaign still ranks seventh all-time while her 77 steals that season ranks 18th in Cougars history. In addition, Atkinson’s 203 career-assists at WNCC sit at No. 10 all-time. Meanwhile, her .328 career shooting clip from 3-point range at Wichita State places her 13th in Shockers history.

Atkinson graduated from Wichita State in 2003 with a bachelor’s in elementary education and earned a master’s degree in educational curriculum from New Mexico State in 2008.
